Bon Air Library - Oxford's Community Resource

Bon Air Library is a member of the Chesterfield County Public Library system; however it was partially funded by the city of Richmond. Consequently, all Oxford residents are welcome to be a member. As an active proponent of local arts, culture and literary information, our library provides a variety of youth programs, basic computer classes and a myriad of online services to help you easily find exactly what you need. They'll even e-mail book recommendations right to your inbox via their NextReads service. Chesterfield Public Libraries also host monthly speakers, art exhibitions, educational film screenings and musical performances. So stop into the Bon Air Library and see what you've been missing. Just three short minutes from anywhere in Oxford. Nestled behind the Buford Road Shopping center, it is off of Old Bon Air Road.
